

"EMBODIED: EXPERIENCE, EXPOSURE, AND THE PEOPLE'S HEALTH"

An open lecture and panel discussion with Dr. Camara Jones

Featured guest speaker Dr. Camara Jones will join OHSU-PSU Professors, Dr. Ryan Petteway (instructor for PHE 452), Dr. Dawn Richardson, and Multnomah County Health Department Research Scientist & Senior Epidemiologist Dr. Aileen Duldulao in a discussion of embodiment and public health.

Our bodies tell stories across generations. As Ta-Nehisi Coates reminds us in regards to racial oppression, "the sociology, the history, the economics, the graphs, the charts, the regressions all land, with great violence, upon the body." Discourse regarding health equity is ultimately a discourse about bodies--a discourse that necessitates critical and intersectional analyses of relational power dynamics that have historically patterned and continue to shape our health experiences, exposures, and opportunities. We have stories to tell--stories that resist regression, literally and figuratively.

Please join us!

When: January 14th, 2:00-4:00pm

Where: NASSC

710 SW Jackson St., Portland, OR 97201

Please contact Dr. Ryan Petteway with questions - petteway@pdx.edu
For physical accommodations please email Andrew Wyman - wymaa@pdx.edu

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH