Graduates of the OHSU-PSU School of Public Health Graduate Certificate in Public Health (GCPH) have a solid foundation in the five core public health knowledge areas, abilities and skills. Graduates are eligible to sit for the National Board of Public Health Examiners Certified in Public Health (CPH) exam. Graduates often remain in their current positions in public health systems or advance in their careers.

Program Competencies

At the end of the Graduate Certificate in Public Health program, graduates will be able to:

- Use principles of statistical inference for critical reading and interpretation of reports of statistical analysis and of public health problems.
- Apply epidemiologic methods to identify patterns of disease and injury.
- Analyze the environmental and occupational impacts on the health of a population.
- Identify and analyze major issues in health services and systems associated with the delivery, quality and costs of health care.
- Communicate theoretical principles, constructs, and models used to understand and affect the behavioral aspects of health.
