ABOUT THE INTEGRATIVE PROJECT

The Integrative Project (IP), along with your Practice Experience (PE), are the culminating experiences of your Master of Public Health training. The Integrative Project (IP) is a personal portfolio of work completed as part of your degree program, along with a reflective self-assessment. You will take the 1-credit IP the last term of your MPH.

The portfolio is composed of four parts and must accomplish six criteria (1. Demonstration of CEPH Foundational Competency #6 and the ability to apply an equity lens in relation to a public health issue; 2) application of existing theory and/or empirical evidence to support a public health program, policy, or research study; 3) description of the context and implications of a public health program, policy, research study, or issue; 4) clearly communicate to other public health professionals; 5) demonstration of 5 CEPH foundational competencies; 6) demonstration of 4 program competencies). The IP is 1.00 credit.
