Information in this document is updated annually. Please refer to the program guide for the year you entered the program. Student resources, policies, and procedures applicable to all School of Public Health graduate students can be found on the SPH website, www.ohsu-psu-sph.org.

Overview

Program Director: Lynne Messer (lynne.messer@pdx.edu)

<https://ohsu-psu-sph.org/mph-health-promotion/>

Health Promotion/MSW Dual Degree Advisor: Lynne Messer (lynne.messer@pdx.edu)

The Health Promotion program is an interdisciplinary course of study providing students with specialized training in public health promotion and education. Through coursework and community-based experiences, students learn to address factors in the broader social, economic, policy, and built environments to improve the health of populations. In this track students build practice and research skills for population-level intervention, including program development, implementation, and evaluation. The curriculum further offers opportunities to focus on health across the lifespan. Graduates of the Health Promotion track will be able to effectively recognize and assess health disparities, communicate health information, promote health equity, and mobilize resources for social change.

Program Competencies

1. Students graduating from the MPH: Health Promotion (HP) degree program will be able to:
2. Design theory-informed, evidence-based health promotion interventions and initiatives.
3. Critically evaluate public health programs or policies with an equity lens and analysis of power dynamics.
4. Analyze the role of ethical principles and social justice in health promotion practice.
5. Collaborate with communities in the design and implementation of sustainable initiatives to advance health equity.
6. Formulate strategic health communications that are evidence-based, culturally responsive, and theory informed.

Competency-based achievement: Competencies consistent with graduate-level education (56 credits total) are achieved through core required courses, program required courses, and strengthened through elective courses, applied practice and integrative learning experiences, and an interprofessional requirement. Additional information about planning and selection of elective courses can be found at the end of this guide.

GPA and grade requirements: Minimum overall GPA of 3.0; minimum grade of “B-” in required courses and “C” in elective courses; no more than two grades lower than “B-” can be applied to the degree. More information may be found on the Graduate Student Policies and Procedures website.

Academic support and resources: Academic resources and student support services available to SPH graduate students are listed on the SPH website, www.ohsu-psu-sph.org. Please review the resources listed there.

MPH Health Promotion: Recommended Course Sequence

Below are recommended course schedules for full-time students. Although other schedules are possible, please try to adhere to the recommended sequence as much as possible; this assists in resource allocations at the level of the school. Be sure to consult with your Lynne, your faculty Advisor, regarding your program of study to choose the best electives for your educational and professional goals.

In a given term, CPH prefix courses as well as the asynchronous versions of PUBH will first prioritize the registration needs of students in the online Public Health Practice program, however, students in the MPH Health Promotion program will be able to register for these courses if space remains once priority registration lifts.

The HP Program Director holds quarterly group advising sessions that are an excellent opportunity to hear program updates, reminders on recommended course sequence, and to get answers to your emerging questions. In addition, your Faculty Advisor is an important resource. We recommend consulting with your Faculty Advisor quarterly regarding your program of study and course selection to determine the schedule that fits best for you.

If you receive federal financial aid, it is important to be aware of financial aid requirements when planning your schedule. Federal loans require at least 1/2-time enrollment (5 credits). Please refer to the OHSU's "Student Financial Aid Explained" and "Standard Enrollment Plan" documents, paying particular attention to summer term, for more information. These documents can be found on OHSU's Financial Aid website here: <https://www.ohsu.edu/education/financial-aid>. Dual degree MPH-HP/MSW and MPH/MURP students should consult PSU's Office of Financial Aid instead.

Part-time students will work closely with their Advisor to ensure that all requirements for graduation are met in alignment with each student's needs and goals. Some courses are only offered once per year, so it is critical to work with your advisor to ensure you can complete them on the schedule that works for you without any lags in your progress

The MPH-HP and MSW programs share credits in the following way:

- PUBH 522 (Analytic methods II) will substitute for the MSW Advanced Research Elective [3 credits]
